Dr. K.R.S Murthy, in his address, spoke how a teacher facilitates rather than teach. A teacher ensures learning through participation is what he urged. Recalling his days spent at IIM Ahmedabad as a Professor and IIM Bangalore as Director Dr. KRS Murthy suggested that students especially in the Management field need to possess people skills.

Dr. Nagabrhamam, shared his experience of how his teachers and mentors have guided him, in building an institution like TAPMI,Manipal. And gave a call to the student community to raise their aspirations and be learner always.

Mr.A V Kapileshwar, shared his experience in different positions at Syndicate Bank, and how problems can be the stepping stones in learning process, which ultimately helped him in building cases which have won acclaim at the national level.

Dr. J M Subramanyam spoke about his teacher, ‘Surappa Meshtu’ and his influence on his early life. “I have learnt from all sources and people” is what he shared. Culture, values, integrity and personal development is what one learns from teachers.

Dr. A H Chachadi addressed the gathering, that the teaching profession not just being noble but also that it has no end. Observing that there were teachers of five generations present in the auditorium, his teacher, his teacher’s teacher, his student who is now a teacher and her students, Dr. Chachadi remarked that the teachers and students must partner to make the learning process effective.

In his remarks, Director, Dr. Ramakant Kulkarni, spoke of how distinguished guests are not just teachers, but they are also institutional builders, and their expertise would go a long way in strengthening the GBS Institution.

Faculty, Mrs. Kiran Magavi presented vote of thanks, Management, Faculty, Staff and students of GBS were present on this occasion.
